Introduction

In a meeting of eminent Mycologists and Plant Pathologists held on 07.01.05, it was decided to establish Mycophytopathological Society of Pakistan (MYCOPS). Dr Atta-ur-Rehman, Federal minister & Chairman Higher education commission and Lt. Gen (R) Arshad Mahmood Ex-Vice Chancellor, Punjab University very kindly accepted to be Chief Patron and the Patron respectively of the society. Dr. Bajwa, Chairperson MPPL, was asked to serve as the president of the society. MYCOPS recognizes the need to look into the future to best position the discipline to meet future societal needs and scientific opportunities. The society rapidly attracted the mycologists and plant pathologists countrywide. Today the society is successfully working to bridge the gap between academia and industry.

On behalf of the society, the organizing committee invites all members of the mycology and pathology community to join us at Institute of Mycology & Plant Pathology, University of the Punjab, Lahore, Pakistan between 9-11 November 2009.
