Students will be required to undertake a small-scale investigation on a topic of individual interest in their area of specialization. The aim of this component is to encourage the students to

- Develop the ability to collect, analyze and interpret data
- Present their findings in a coherent and well-organized research paper and to avoid plagiarism.
- Write an abstract presenting a critical summary of the paper comprising 150 – 200 words
- Document their sources using MLA format for in-text citation and works cited list

Each student will be provided individual supervision and guidance in the proposed research that he or she is conducting.
