Speech is a great blessing, but it can also be a great curse, for, while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows; it can also, if we use it carelessly, make our attitude completely misunderstood. A slip of the tongue, the use of an unusual word, or of an ambiguous word, and so one may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend.

Different classes of people use different vocabularies, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride. We may unwittingly use a word which bears a different meaning to our listener from what it does to men of our own class. Thus, speech is not a gift to be used lightly without thought, but one which demands careful handling; only a fool will express himself alike to all kinds and conditions of men.

Questions:

i. How is speech a great blessing? [3 marks]

ii. How can speech be a curse? [3 marks]

iii. Can a slip of a tongue create an enemy? [3 marks]

iv. How can the vocabulary of a person create misunderstanding? [3 marks]
