TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Associate Professor – Hailey College of Commerce, University of the Punjab, Lahore	2022 to Date
Assistant Professor – Hailey College of Commerce, University of the Punjab, Lahore	2013 to 2022
Lecturer - Hailey College of Commerce, University of the Punjab Lahore	2002-2013
Lecturer - Garrison Post Graduate College for Women Lahore	2000-2002

My teaching provides a multidisciplinary perspective to assess the theoretical, contextual, and methodological relevance of various aspects of business and management research topics. I adopt a case-based approach to guide research students on how conceptual models can be tested. I also guide by highlighting the importance of scientific rigour in assessing potential research areas in the field of management. I guide scholars by identifying the scientific approach to evaluate potential research topics through bibliometric analysis. Eventually, in the first semester, the PhD scholars are able to publish research papers and become knowledgeable as to which research areas require addition to the existing body of knowledge and identify the key authors, journals and sponsors in their area of interest. I also provide students the opportunity to work on data sets by learning the application of inferential statistics and drawing inferences out of the findings. For MPhil students, I rigorously adopt a holistic approach to identify potential research topics practically through a literature search and by presenting the relevant literature through literature maps. Besides, I also guide the students regarding the types of worldviews adopted by researchers and which worldview will be suitable for what type of study. Eventually, the students will be able to develop a comprehensive yet realistic research proposal. Besides this, she also guides the students with respect to APA 7th Manual while the students are developing their proposals. I am teaching the following subjects:

MODULE TAUGHT	PROGRAM
Quantitative Data Analysis	Ph.D.
Application of Inferential in Business	MPhil and M.Com
Advanced Research Methodology	MPhil and M.Com
Operations and Production Management	B.Com
Research Methods for Business	B.Com

RESEARCH PROGRAM

I am leading an HEC-recognized journal as an editor: "Leadership and Organizational Behavior Journal". My research output contributes to the field of commerce and specifically adopts a multidisciplinary approach by quantitatively analyzing the extent to which organizations disclose information that pertains to corporate social responsibility (CSR). Specifically, drawing on the dynamic capabilities theories, my research focuses on issues relating to responsible innovation with a focus on small and medium enterprises in the context of lower-middle-income countries. My research also takes into account the Sustainable Development Goals 2030 and focuses on gender equality, occupational health and safety, water management practices, etc., in lower-middle-income countries.
